NEW YORK, December 9.—The bad bank NEW YORK, December 2.—The bad bank statements Saturday and the death of Mr. Harvey Kennedy, a prominent buil, together with an indifferent London market, caused our market to open on and s. Il of quite sharply to 2 o'clock. But shortly after that the market became firmer, and continued dull, with a strong undertone to the close. Legitimate business is very light, that is, trading for the outside public. It is generally admitted that the market is wholly professional. The iron trade continues good, while the coal trade is anything but properous. Railroad carnings rereal good general business. Money ruled 6gs to-day. The outlook for the country, as a whole, could not be better than it is to-day, and by-and-bye this fact will be reflected in speculative markets by a great beom, the sudden death this morning of Mr. Harvey Kennedy, who for many years has been a heavy trader in the stock, a firm believer in its mepits and a strong supporter of its price in the market. His death being known before the market opened, it was at once assumed that a large amount of Lackawanna, presumably held by his firm in their name for his account, would be likely to come upon the market, and the stock opened 1½ lower than it closed Saturday. It quickly rallied, as no heavy blocks of it were thrown upon the market. Througout the morning the general list was unsettled and fluctuated frequently, but at noon prices were at about the opening figures. There was a little more activity after midday, but the tone of the dealings was somewhat firmer. Closing prices were irregularly changed, but in most cases generally ½ to 13½ lower. Sales, 244,596 shares.
